

Good Afternoon Wakefield Families!

Thank you so much for your continued dedication and support of the Wakefield Community! So far, our fourth quarter is successful! I wanted to take a moment to provide a few updates in regards to the happenings of Wakefield Middle School!

Wakefield is making some great community partnerships and we would love to celebrate those! First, we have a great partnership with the Angel Heart Pajama Project, a local non profit with a mission of providing pajamas and books to children in need. They are housed on the Wakefield campus and will partner with Wakefield math teacher, Rene Acereto, to work with students to run the financial and marketing components of their organization. This work and elective will start in School Year 21-22!

Additionally, we are very lucky to be partnering with the LINCS, incorporated, an international non-profit that is supporting our STEAM efforts. The LINCS will provide engineers, scientists and more to mentor Wakefield students and to ensure that Wakefield kids are excited about computer programming, Google products, robotics, and the arts.

Go Knights! For the third quarter in a row, the Wakefield Knights were the highest achieving students in English/Language Arts for our region! We are very excited! Please give your kiddos a high five!
