

Good Morning Wakefield Families,

We continue to thank you so much for your continued dedication! We want to remind everyone that we are going to have an informational night for parents and guardians tomorrow, March 9th @ 6:00PM using the following Zoom link: <https://tusd1.zoom.us/j/82519838904>

Tomorrow, we will discuss the hybrid schedule that begins on Monday, March 22nd, as well as our safety and health protocols. We hope to see you there. Also note that on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, students will be signing in to their first period class and being asynchronous or independent work for the remainder of the day. This will afford teachers the time to ready their classrooms for hybrid scheduling the week after Spring Break.

That said, please note all the important information for Wakefield Students this week:

Mathematics with Mr. Acereto – Hello Wakefield Families! We do not have too much information expect for Benchmarks this week! Students take Math Benchmarks on Tuesday of this week. Please encourage your child to do their best!!

Humanities with Ms. Lopez - Hello families! Today, we will be Benchmark Testing in ELA. Please encourage your son/daughter to take their time, and do their best on their Benchmarks. In addition, there's just a few more days left to turn in any late or incomplete assignments before the quarter ends. In honor of Cesar Chavez, we will have a guest speaker on March 11th. March Book Reading Challenge has begun! Continue reading nightly! Have a great week!

Science with Mr. Malan - Hello Wakefield parents! I've been enjoying talking about astronomy phenomena with your children! We are currently trying to solve why Tucson is hotter when the Earth is farther from the sun and colder when the Earth is closer. Please be aware that benchmarks are the 8th and 9th of March! Thank you!

Thank you much parents! We hope to see you tomorrow!

Warmly,

Kamren Taravati

Principal
